

tuesday, may 10, 2011

fourth annual nih career symposium

Tuesday, May 10, 2011

Natcher Conference Center

8:00 am – 4:30 pm

Networking reception to follow off campus

keynote speaker

Donna E. Shalala, PhD

President, University of Miami

Former Secretary, Department of Health and Human Services

about the symposium

The NIH Career Symposium provides an opportunity for NIH graduate students and postdoctoral trainees, both basic scientists and clinicians, to learn about career options available to them and to explore factors that lead to career success.

Panel sessions will focus on both research-intensive careers and careers away from the bench in all sectors, with experts providing insights into their diverse career paths. Topics include succeeding in academics, scientists in industry, careers for clinicians, government jobs, policy careers, science communications and teaching jobs. The day will conclude with skill workshops to ensure trainees have the resources to build their careers.

to register or to read more visit www.training.nih.gov

accommodations

To request sign language interpretation for this event please contact the Office of Research Services Interpreting Service Requests at <http://does.ors.od.nih.gov/interpreting>

organized by:

Office of Intramural Training & Education (OITE)

Fellows Committee (FELCOM)

Graduate Student Counsel (GSC)

with support from:

Office of Research on Women's Health (ORWH)

Foundation for Advanced Education in the Sciences (FAES)

Burroughs Welcome Fund

National Institutes of Health

U.S. Department of Health and Human Services

