OCTOBER 17-18, 2011

NATCHER CONFERENCE CENTER
BETHESDA, MARYLAND

In October, the NIH will host 150 competitively-selected, advanced graduate students for a two-day visit to the Bethesda campus. NIH scientists can recruit these highly talented individuals to postdoctoral positions in the Intramural Research Program.

NIH investigators can

- post descriptions of projects to recruit postdoctoral fellows
- conduct interviews during the Conference

The entire NIH community can

- attend Conference poster sessions to meet the attendees, sign up to have lunch with Conference participants
- attend the Conference scientific and career sessions
